BULLYING. IT SURROUNDS US, IN OUR DAILY LIVES

- Bullying can happen anywhere young people gather.
- Research shows that 15-25% of students are bullied with some frequency.
- Another 15-20% admit to bullying others.

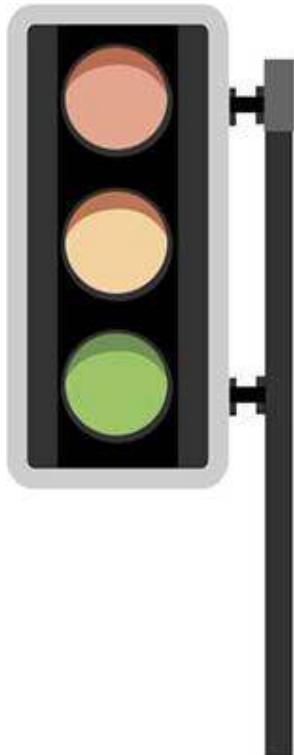

- The bullying phenomenon is a multidimensional problem affecting many aspects of the social life.
- About 60 percent of boys identified as bullies in middle school commit at least one crime by the time they are 24.

- Bullies are raised in the home, victims are too frequently created in the classroom.

Our Grundtvig Project

- Partners involved in the project: Portugal, Turkey, Spain, Romania, Germany, Czech Republic, Italy - a big working group giving attention to the bullying phenomenon
- We are different type of institutions (NGO's, schools, Universities) making possible a comparison and an exchange of information and methodologies.

Outcome

- builds awareness of bullying
- gives teachers and staff the tools and approaches they can use to prevent and manage bullying
